

TWO POEMS

IN

HONOR OF

HENRY GEORGE DAY

September 2, 1879

SEPTEMBER SECOND

This day is named for Henry George;
New York has set the pace
For recognition of his worth
In every time and place.

When kept in fact as well as name,
For every man on earth
There'll be an equal chance to live
And realize his worth.

-----

HENRY GEORGE DAY

September Second marks the day
Of Henry George's birth;
The symbol chosen is a tree,
To signify his worth.

For men will gain in strength and grace
When like unto a tree,
The gifts of Nature are enjoyed
In true equality.
