Conference fee: US$40/£24

Accommodation - Doubleroom, garden view	$385 / £233 per person
Jerusalem view	$410 / £248 per person
- Tripleroom, Jerusalem view	$375 / £227 per person

All bookings must be accompanied by a deposit of $50/£30 which will be returnable if we receive a cancellation BEFORE 24th December 1990, BUT NOT AFTER THAT DATE.

Balance of cost must be received in London by 31st January 1991.

The price includes 9 nights bed and breakfast accommodation at the Maiersdorf Faculty Club of the Hebrew University on Mount Scopus, with dinner every night, the meal taken on 21st March being the supper at Jaffa, and on the 24th, the Banquet at the Moriah, and transfers to and from Ben Gurion airport on the Conference bus. NB No lunches are included in the package.

If accommodation is fully paid for by 15th December 1990, the conference fee will be reduced to $20/£12. A surcharge of $50/£30 per person will be made for all bookings received after 24th December 1990.

EXCHANGE RATE

At the time of writing this brochure the costs in sterling as against the US dollar are shown. It may be necessary to change these rates as currencies move against each other. The organisers reserve the right to make currency surcharges as necessary during the next 6 months.

Maiersdorf Faculty Club of the Hebrew University on Mount Scopus - Jerusalem

The Jerusalem Menorah by Shuki Kook, BIPAC

The University Campus is on the summit of Mount Scopus with magnificent views in all directions. To the west lies the Old City with its glittering dome of the El Aksa Mosque: to the east, the desert, and (on a clear day) the Dead Sea: to the south the Mount of Olives and to the north, built in golden Jerusalem stone, the houses of the Jerusalem suburbs.

The Hebrew University, founded in the 1920s, was completely destroyed at the end of the British Mandate. Recently rebuilt to a carefully co-ordinated plan, it is now possible to walk round the entire campus using covered walkways.

Panoramic view from the Jewish Quarter of the Old City

The Maiersdorf Faculty Club is a modern, octagonal shaped building within the campus. At ground level there is car parking space for club residents. On the second floor are a restaurant and a coffee shop which both lead on to a large patio with views over Jerusalem. The third floor is a large reception area leading on to the University walkway. The fourth and fifth floors are conference rooms and a library with a TV/Video. The top floors are bedrooms, doubles and triples, all having private facilities, air conditioning, telephone, radio and refrigerator, and with views either of Jerusalem or the University gardens. There is an automatic lift to all floors. The entire Conference proceedings - apart from the outings and the Banquet - will take place here.

Since there is so much to see in Israel, we are arranging more sight-seeing excursions than we usually do. One of these excursions is included in the conference "package" while others, listed on a separate sheet, will be optional extras. All will start and finish at the ground floor car park of the Maiersdorf. Buses into Jerusalem leave from the lower level of the University for those members who wish to explore the city independently. Although all Israelis do not speak English, it is quite easy to find one's way about with a map of the City which will be provided to all conference members.

Conference members will take breakfast (a substantial meal in Israel) and dinner in the restaurant, but will be free to make their own arrangements for lunch, choosing from a large variety of options in either the restaurant or coffee shop. On Thursday evening, 21st March, we shall have dinner in Jaffa (see list of excursions) and on Sunday, 24th March, we shall be holding a Banquet at the Moriah Hotel in downtown Jerusalem. Both these special meals are included in the conference package.

Within the University buildings are a bank, post office and sweet and card shop, a bookshop and general store. A supermarket is situated in the students' dormitory accommodation about ten minutes' walk away, where there is also a laundrette.

We have also reserved some luxurious accommodation nearer the centre of Jerusalem at the five star Moriah Hotel which is on a direct bus route to the university campus. More details of this are on a separate sheet.

A bus will meet everyone arriving on EL AL flight LY016 from New York and London and take them to the Maiersdorf by late afternoon on Monday 18th March. Members arriving by other airlines can either wait for the special bus (if they reach the airport earlier) or travel independently.

Buses and taxis run from the airport to Jerusalem (35 miles) but no bus runs directly to Mount Scopus. Members would have to change buses at the Central bus station, a daunting prospect for the weary traveller! A bus will return members to the airport on Wednesday 27th March, to connect with EL AL flight LY015 to London and New York.

The Maiersdorf Faculty Club

NB. The Maiersdorf Faculty Club is a much smaller building than we have used in the past and so accommodation will be very limited. For this reason, no single rooms will be available. It would therefore be most appreciated if members coming on their own were prepared to share triple rooms, for which a reduction will be made.

Double room at the Maiersdorf Club

All accommodation will be allocated on a first come, first served basis. If we receive bookings after our allotted accommodation is filled, we shall find hotel rooms in downtown Jerusalem at an equivalent cost on a bed and breakfast basis. However, we cannot guarantee that such rooms will have the same excellent facilities as the Maiersdorf because that is subsidised by the University. Members so accommodated would take their dinner at the Maiersdorf but would have to make their own arrangements for transport to and from the hotel.

Bookings on El Al flights LY016 and LY015 can be made by the London office at a cheaper price than single applicants can obtain.

Bookings can also be made for flights from other countries, but since the best "deals" are always available in the country of the flight's origin, overseas members are advised to make their own arrangements, shopping around to obtain the most economical fare.
