Dear Mr Clancy,

There has been some correspondence in the Financial Times on the subject of the game of Monopoly, and its origin. I had a letter published on 29 October or 5 November, and there was a reply yesterday from the director of Waddingtons, who manufacture the game in this country.

Mrs Sobrielo of the Henry George School suggested that I should ask you for the full story. Do you have an illustration of the early version of the board - I have seen one published somewhere. You may like to write to the Financial Times yourself.

The address is Bracken House
Cannon Street
London EC4

I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours sincerely.
