Dear Mr. Clancy,

Last Friday, 25th, I sent you a copy of my TALK by airmail. I trust you have duly received it by now? Of course you do know that comment and criticism is most welcome even of the adverse sort.

Enclosed "Letter to my brother in Dundee, Scotland, represents my reaction to a communication that he received from 177, Vauxhall Bridge Road, London. Attached is a photo-copy of that letter.

In replying to my brother, David, I suggested he sent a copy to Mr. V.H. Blundell of "Land & Liberty" requesting publication of "Letter to David." It is high time that some breath of criticism appeared in "Land & Liberty". More I will not say just now.

Yours sincerely,

James H. Mac Murchie
