

DR. ISSELS AND HIS REVOLUTIONARY CANCER TREATMENT - Gordon Thomas

"Cancer is not a local affliction, but a general disease which places the whole body in danger from the outset;...An increasing number of the components of what has become known as Issels' 'whole body treatment,' or Ganzheitstherapie are now regularly used in all parts of the world. "'The innovator, especially in medicine, has always been looked upon with suspicion.'" Dr. Issels practiced homeopathy to build up immunity to each patient's history of family weakness, and also treated each according to his psychological nature. In addition, he developed general immunity, through diet, exercise, and building up an optimistic attitude; recognizing also the power of faith to effect some cures. He removed infection sources, and injected Novocaine at a weak spot, such as scar tissue, to end severe headaches. He found infusions of molecular oxygen and inhalations of hot ether gas sometimes effective, and also immunotherapy vaccines, Toxinal and Blasto-lysin. A woman brought to him with inoperable brain cancer, deaf, dumb, blind, paralyzed in both legs and one arm, whose bladder and rectum couldn't function, and bald from repeated radiotherapy, was completely cured in five months. Her former doctors, who had given up on her, called it spontaneous remission. His mother-in-law, whose doctor said that her progressive cirrhosis of the liver was incurable, he cured in five months. Professor David Smithers, distinguished cancerologist of London, in a long attack on current empiricism, referred to "the nonspecific generally applied cell poisons of present-day chemotherapy, which have little but hope to support them."

Cancer is not not a unique disease, but another chronic degenerative sickness, involving almost all essential organs. When an operation removes a tumor, which often shortly appears elsewhere in the body, it is evident that the entire body needs strengthening. "before a growth starts, the functioning of the organism must have been abnormal. ...the primary tumor was a local manifestation of a general disposition to cancer." "'A healthy body has the capacity to keep all cells functioning properly, and when cancer cells form, the body's natural defense mechanism can overcome them. ...It is equally true for all the theories of the origin of the cancer cells - by virus, mutation and so on.'" The lowering of resistance may be complex, developing over years or generations. The body must be able to "eliminate the waste products of the metabolism and toxins resulting from chronic infections, such as dead teeth, infected tonsils, degenerated intestinal flora, and inherited factors such as 'masked' tuberculosis and syphilis....(Hippocrates) taught that a malcondition of the body liquids, dyscrasia, was the basis for all kinds of diseases, which manifested themselves according to the constitution and disposition of the individual"

German, British and U. S. medical and cancer societies work separately and cooperatively to suppress and denounce publicity, teaching and practice of cures, extended lifetimes and quality of life attained by means other than expensive operations, chemotherapy and radiation. Dr. Issels was sued, prevented from practicing his methods for five years, until acquitted. He has handled over 6,000 cancer patients - more than anyone else - most given up by others, after ineffective or harmful orthodox treatment, and costly delay; and attained a 16.6 % record of cures, and a great many extended and improved lives. (A natural diet, in a clean environment, would prevent most cancer, as with the Hunzas; and Dr. Issels treatment would cure most disease that occurred.)

(The daily death toll in Guatemala has doubled in the past year from a distressing 8-10 per day to an unbelievable rate of 20 persons killed each day. Statistics compiled by the Democratic Front Against Repression (FDCR), indicate that, in the first two and a half months of this year, a thousand persons died in Guatemala as a direct result of the government's systematic repression of democratic forces.)

These rich nationals and their governments, in complicity with rich foreigners such as the "gringos", kidnap, torture, rob, discriminate against, and kill the Indian peoples and the other poor peoples of Guatemala,

All of the repressive bodies and the murderers receive their training from "gringos", from the U.S. itself, with money often from AID, and instructors from the CIA.

ANATOMY OF AN ILLNESS - Norman Cousins

A Harvard doctor's observations of very old people throughout the world: longevity is related to a balanced frugal diet, vigorous physical activity, involvement. The will to live mobilizes mechanisms of resistance to disease. We survive because we respond adaptively to diversity of challenges, biologically and psychologically. Ancient physicians called it "vis medicatrix naturae" - the healing power of nature. All ancient and primitive societies had successful healers, though there was little effective medical therapy until this century. Wm. Osler, famed healer of Johns Hopkins, around 1900, taught that most drugs and treatment were useless, that faith and comfortable nursing cures most organic disease. Now, antibiotic therapy alone can cure certain diseases, and medical or surgical treatment may hasten recovery, or correct symptoms, to enable one to function. Professor Eli Ginsberg, of Columbia, however, states: "No improvement in the health care system will be efficacious unless the citizen assumes responsibility for his own well-being." (to improve life style, and provide confidence)

The connective tissue of the author's spine was disintegrating. Progressive paralysis was prognosticated, with one chance in 500 of recovering. He laughed his way out of pain with funny movies and joke books, for two hours, repeating the procedure upon awakening; ridding his body of toxic painkillers. Aspirin can cause internal bleeding, heavily taxes adrenal glands, impairs blood clotting. Phenylbutazone duplicates the first two, and depresses bone marrow. Laughter affects the release of pituitary endorphin, with an opiate-like effect on pain; also causing a cumulative drop in the sedimentation rate of red blood corpuscles. Vit. C oxygenates the blood, and similarly affects the sedimentation rate. High intravenous injections of vit. C gradually enabled the author to function almost normally, and almost free of pain, after seven years, playing tennis, golf and the piano, and riding horseback flat out. The history of medicine is far more of the placebo effect than of intrinsically valuable drugs: lizard's blood, vipers. Many tracts by doctors favor vit. C for a wide range of disorders, unaffected by medication. A patient in a coma, in an oxygen tent, from viral encephalitis, was out of the tent in two weeks, when given large doses of sodium ascorbate intravenously. 176 cancer cases, remitted without surgery, chemotherapy or X-rays, were studied as to the confidence factor of patients and doctors. Many British hospitals use intravenous ascorbic acid as post operative infection protection.

The largest Indian nation in the Peruvian forest is that of the Campa, or Ashaninka People.

The problems of the Ene Campa are not, however, restricted to the theft of their land by the fake "co-operatives" - two timber companies with high-level political and economic support also have their eyes on the Ene.

The Campa are seeing their lands being taken over once again. There is nowhere left for them to go

The massacres by these ambitious, assassin invaders were many.

At the end of the years of continuous massacres, another long chain of great sufferings began for our ancestors - those who survived. The life of exploitation, discrimination, oppression and persecution began. Pedro de Alvarado obliged the Indian people to dig for gold, wash it, and construct churches and public buildings. The suffering was tremendous. They demanded great tributes from our grandfathers and robbed everyone of their jewels and their fertile lands. Their wives and daughters were raped.

This was not enough: the cursed ones burned our religious books and the books where all of the scientific knowledge of our ancestors was written.

they have been killing us by hunger, paying us miserable salaries in the fincas and factories; they also rob us in the weight of the coffee and cotton, poison us in the fields, raise the prices of products of primary necessity such as sugar, salt, soap, fertilizers, equipment.

The massacres continued after the Creole Independence of 1821

Finally, our ancestors were put to slavery, were treated worse than beasts of burden, marked with hot irons, and obliged to do heavy work

Assassin Justo Rufino Barrios. Thief, because he robbed many communal lands from our people to plant coffee, which is one of the crops that produces the most money

(On July 18, 1980, Oglala Sioux Tribal Attorney Mario Gonzalez filed suit in federal court in Rapid City, South Dakota, asking for $11 billion in damages and restoration of the Black Hills to the Oglala people. Ninety-six defendants were named in the class action suit, including the State of South Dakota, the U.S. government, nine cities, seven counties and dozens of large landowners, industries and businesses. The suit seeks $1 billion in damages for "hunger, malnutrition, disease and death" suffered by the Lakota people because of the loss of 7 million acres of land.

The suit also seeks $10 billion for the loss to the Lakota people of non-renewable resources

(from the Pueblo News, August, 1980)

An Albuquerque law firm is representing some 5,000 Western Shoshone traditionalist who would rather retain title to 18 million acres of ancient tribal homeland than accept a $26 million award compensating them for extinguishment of their title by the Indian Claims Commission.